Eco-Friendly – Reducing timber logging with 100% recyclable aluminium. An environmentally friendly powder coat application is used on all Altwood products.

Australian Made – Australian-owned business, making products meeting all of Australia's construction standards and demanding climatic conditions. Meets AS/NZS fire propagation and AS3715 product standards.

Authentic Look – Choose Altwood for the beautiful, natural look of real timber to give you a striking, modern and authentic looking finish.

Durability Non-Combustible, Non-Warping, Termite-Resistant, Mark-Resistant & Corrosion-Resistant

Low-Maintenance – Altwood is an easy to maintain finish requiring no more maintenance other than a wash with warm, soapy water.

Colour Stability – Altwood offers a 20 year colour stability guarantee. Unlike timber, the products will not require re-coating or staining.

SUSTAINABILITY

Choosing Altwood products provides a sustainable, 100% recyclable authentic timber-look product. The use of our products assists in the reduction of trees lumbered in natural forests around the world.

Altwood products are virtually maintenance free, saving further costs compared to timber. The coated finish technology used by Altwood eliminates the use of paints that contain solvents and VOCs (Volatile organic compounds).

We are passionate about our product range; which offers better, easier and safer outcomes for our customers and the planet.

TIMBER-LOOK COLLECTION

ABOUT ALTWOOD

Altwood's origins were established in 1968 by the founders of Mansutti Brothers, who introduced Powder Coating to Australia.

This experience and expertise has now been extended to produce a high-end, authentic timber-look finish to aluminium products for the Australian market.

Our premium grade aluminium woodgrain designs are produced in Victoria, utilising the latest, most environmentally-friendly and sustainable manufacturing processes available today.

The timber-look aluminium styles offered by Altwood deliver the natural beauty and warmth of timber, whilst virtually eliminating the time and cost-consuming upkeep associated with natural timber products.

With an extensive range of premium styles to suit your individual palette, Altwood is the perfect solution for your next project.

FINISHES

Altwood's collection of finishes has been developed specifically for the Australian market.

Whatever your project may be, with 40 natural wood grain styles available, Altwood will provide you with the perfect finish for your project.

From classic, native timbers, to rare and exotic varieties from all around the world, we have assembled a beautiful range of authentic woodgrain finishes to make your project stand out.

We also offer customised timber finishes to suit your unique requirements.
